Topic: Multiculturalism, Immigrants and Foreign Policy

The world today is gripped by the COVID 19 crisis whose repercussions in the political, socio-economic and cultural domains, have been far reaching. It has significantly influenced policy formulation, both domestic and foreign, by governments all over the world. The Diaspora communities and immigrants interspersed throughout the globe have encountered a multicultural identity crisis. In the present scenario, it is pertinent to address the seminal question whether the concept of Multiculturalism still retains its validity and efficacy or whether it is besieged by an existential challenge in view of the modified policy of various countries towards immigrants.
